"Science and Us"

1st Biomedicine and Health PhD Students Congress at the Faculty of Medicine in Rijeka

19–20 May 2022

Third call for participation

Dear PhD students, postdoctoral researchers and all interested parties,

It is our honor and pleasure to invite you to "Science and Us", the 1st Biomedicine and Health PhD Students Congress with international participation. The Congress will be held from 19 to 20 May 2022 at the Faculty of Medicine, University of Rijeka. It is intended for PhD students and postdoctoral researchers in biomedicine and health as well as related scientific fields. The main topics of the Congress are biomedicine, clinical medicine, dental medicine, public health and health and environmental engineering. The Congress will be held both on-site and online via the Zoom platform. The official language of the Congress is English.

The aim of the Congress is to share PhD students' and postdoctoral researchers' experience and research results, as well as to contribute to the quality of study programs through oral and poster presentations. Participation in this Congress is an elective activity for doctoral studies. Oral and poster presentations will be evaluated with ECTS credits. This Congress is an opportunity for all participants to increase their knowledge by listening to eminent visiting lecturers from various institutions, to present their noteworthy ideas and to participate in creating solutions to current scientific challenges.

Registration is open until 25 April 2022, and the deadline for submitting abstracts is 4 April 2022. You can register via the Congress official website: <https://kongreszim.jimdofree.com/>. The estimated time for oral presentations is 15 min (including 5 min for discussion) and 5 min for poster presentations (including 2 min for discussion). Detailed instructions for writing abstracts and creating oral and poster presentations, as well as other information regarding participation, can be found on the Congress official website. The registration fee for all participants is 100 HRK.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact us at znanostimi@gmail.com.

We have prepared an interesting program, and we look forward to meeting you!

Kind regards,

Maša Knežević, Congress president

Ina Viduka, Organizing Committee president
